To Dr. Curti:

I am currently attending Edison High School as a junior and I am involved with a program called CIBACS (Center for International Business and Communication Skills). Every year, there is a project that is to be completed over the course of the year. This year, my junior year, we are to choose a profession of interest and intern there. I have chosen medicine, more specifically Hematology and Oncology. I feel that medicine is one of the most important ways to contribute to society and I believe that this is the ideal career for me.

I would consider myself capable of succeeding in this profession, for I am caring, dedicated and reliable. You must be able to multitask and make critical decisions under pressure. I am concerned about other people and I am always willing to help out in any way possible. In this industry, helping people is a daily requirement. I find this fascinating, and that is why I would like to study medicine.

It will be requested of Mario to explain and possibly go into detail on patient's situation and help broaden my knowledge on the amazing lifestyle of medicine. Thank you so much for your time, I know it is valuable. Please consider my qualifications and I hope to hear from you soon.

Genuinely,

Heather Davis
